“ When I first heard about this I couldn't believe it, out of all people... it still seems so surreal you was one of those staples in my childhood memories and growing up years you was super funny and always hung with Darius and Jemond y'all was that clique all three of y'all were the funniest in school always crakin' jokes. The clique will be so weird now without you, but you still there in spirit. A soul that will never be replaced on this Earth R.I.P. Anthony from me and all the lives of the people you touched in this lifetime and I will see you again in the next.
