“ You were more than an aunt you were more like a second mother. I spent many years growing up in the same household with you. Charles was the big brother that I never had. I would not change my childhood for anything in the world. I will miss you but I will never forget you. I am glad we all were home for Thanksgiving and got a chance to say good-bye for now. Love you soooo much.

“ Azalene had alot of faith in God. When I last spoke with her she had nothing but praises for the great things He had done in her Life. I worked with her at Jones and later at Longstreet school.

To her family, God will help you with this I know because He helped me.

God Bless and Keep you in His care.

Debra Austin and family.
