

Benotra Williams

February 10, 2015

Benotra Williams, born December 1, departed this world on February 10, 2015.

He leaves his only son, Roosevelt Montgomery, to mourn his homegoing. May he finally be at peace as he reunites with the one person he treasured most while on earth--his beloved, oldest sister, Burris Jean Ghoston. You will be terribly missed!

Mr. Williams will be laid to rest in Great Lakes National Cemetery, 4200 Belford Road in Holly, Michigan.

“ Uncle Ben, a Special Spirit with an even more Special Heart full of Love for His Family. You have always been a joy to be around, a friend who always kept things on the light-side, but understood the importance and value of being called "Friend"...You will forever be significant in my little world; I'll miss the unique perspectives you shared on life and the plain fun chats we'd have, whenever we'd get together...I will miss You. Love You Man! Howard

I will say, "goodbye" to you for the last time in a few hours. I've always said music soothes the soul and see no better way for you to go on to the next phase of life without a good tune or two.

“ This has got to be the coolest, most intelligent, handsome, caring, loving, and dedicated man that ever walked the face of the earth. Uncle Ben thank you for the many years of loving memories, and good times that you shared with me. Thank you for allowing me to be a part of your life, and showing me what real, and unconditional love really looks like. You will be terribly missed by me until our paths cross again. Thanks for all the service you've shown including the service you provided for the Army and serving in the Vietnam War. You have always been so unselfish by putting others before yourself.

“ Uncle Ben.....where do I begin! You have lived with us more than a few times over the years. Each time was a new adventure! Nothing kills me like the time you came home after you painted yourself. Yep.....you were bright red! I recall all of the children in the neighborhood running and screaming, "look at that red man." I nearly lost my breath laughing at you--a walking Picasso and the kids for running so fast in the opposite direction. Maybe I was too young to be scared or just relaxed because you were my uncle.

There will never be another one like you in this family. You were kind, giving and carefree.....qualities I have the utmost respect for. You ran your own race and were not concerned with how others saw you. Finally, you have been blessed to cross over to the other side to reunite with loved ones who have gone before you. You are in a place where you can truly be free to be you and greatly appreciated for it.

You will be missed but never forgotten. I am forever proud to have been your niece.

“ When I was a young guy my Uncle lived with us and we shared a room!! He told all kinds of crazy tales of his service days and the stories would make me laugh!! I then turned and gained a knack for telling stories that would make my Mom and siblings laugh!! This was a courageous guy even though he was very humble!! He was intelligent even when some things he did were kinda off the charts!!! :) I loved and admired my Uncle and I was even more proud to call him my Unc!!!!!! I'm so happy for you that the physical pains of your health nor the pains and the ugliness of this world world are beneath you now!! For you soar with the Angels and stand beside your Mom, Brother and sisters now!! I can only imagine the smile on all your faces!! I love you Uncle Ben
