“ Goodbys are always so final and I know that this is not the end. My Auntie Carliss was always a joy to be around, I always found myself to be mad if she didn't come to a family function. She made me laugh and always spoke the absolute truth!!!! I remember my last visist with her in the Nursing home,I reminded her of some of the times we shared, and I had her crackin up. The nurses said that they didn't even know that she would speak. That really made me feel good to know that my Auntie knew who I was and remembered our fun times hanging out together :) I will always love you Auntie.

“ As I sit thinking about your mom my sister. I think about how much we loved her. She is leaving, we are staying. (for now.) We all share mix emotions. No one knows how life will end, only that it will. We shared so much together good and bad, laughter and crying. We will remember last Birthdays, last Family Reunions, last Thanksgivings and Christmases spent together. Thanks for the memories Carliss. We wish you could have stayed longer, but God said no. We will stay strong because we shall see you again. Goodby For Now.

“ To Metrie and the family, my sympathy goes out to you. Your mother is in a better place she doesn't have to suffer any more. God knows best. Sometimes we don't understand why things happen the way they do but God knows and that is all that matter. I love you so keep your heads up.

“ God bless you with His power and strength in your very time of need. When you think that you can not make it, just remember that God never forsakes you but He is right by your side, and the Holy Spirit is dwelling inside of you and Jesus is constantly interceding for you. Peace and blessing be with you.
