“ Uncle Earl I’m going to miss you so much. I enjoyed our talks and laughs. You always kept it real and told me how proud you were of me. I remember when I told you I was quitting my job, you said “Angel you got your education, you don’t have to take no mess from no white man”. I remember being a kids and you taking me out on your candy truck when I used to visit Clarksdale! 🍭 A few hours before you passed a song came on my playlist and I was thinking of you because I remember playing that song while you were in the car with me and you turned the radio up and started nodding your head. I knew the song reminded you of your best friend you told me about. From that day, every time I hear that song I think of you. I love you Uncle Earl, you were small in stature but large with heart! Rest In Peace! Love you forever!!! 🥺
