“ To the family of bass he was a sweet and wonderful person. I'm so sorry he couldn't seek out his dreams with becoming a better person, and change was sure to come I know but god calls us when we least expect it. So to his mother please keep your head up, I know you blame people for taking him but you can't let the sins of people break you down . Show them you are better and you will shak nor shiver because they took your son away. Even though we don't know who took bass or maybe you do, God will dill them on judgement day.

Love Roc

P.s to Ms. Calhoun keep your head up god has better days coming ahead for you , so don't worry so much.
