“ Sis. Jones was a fantastic Sunday school teacher that could make going to Sunday School as a teenager interesting. She had the ability to creatively reach young people while making the Word of God alive. She was also a wonderful mentor. I could talk to her about almost anything. While I was a freshman in college at EMU she would send me a little note every now and then and put $5.00 inside to help keep me have some pocket money. I will forever treasure her for the love and concern she showed me. RIP Sis. Jones.

“ To the family of Mrs.Jones. especially my adorable nieces and nephews . Your uncle Zack and I enjoyed visiting with Mrs.Jones whenever we were in town. She was always real and honest with whatever she had to say to us. Her strong personality kept us laughing at times. But the most important thing I loved about her is she truly loved my brother and when he passed away I remember one very cold winter she went out in the cold weather and bought him a grave blanket and then went out in the blizzard the next day and placed it on his grave. what a great woman. I'm sure she and my brother are in heaven together enjoying each.
