“ May the good Lord bless his soul. I truly believe that he’s in a better place. Love you and miss you always.

Praise God, I am so thankful that we reconnected about three months ago, when I transferred with my job to Georgia from California.

Even though, it has been years since I’ve seen him. It was a delight that we started speaking and, on the phone, quite frequently. We shared a common interest. Our love for God.

My remembrance: Back in the day when I first met him at Bluebell Beach "Handsome and Mr. Cool"
