“ *...To actually understand that I'm not going to see this person next school year kinda hurts. I mean, I never met him, as far as talking, but he rode my bus and I remember one time he had got on the bus saying "Aww, man they juss got threw dumpin' at us cuz..." I just wanted to tell him to be careful. These streets don't care about nobody and that's what young black men need to understand. I just remember he and another person would choose to walk behind me and talk about how "thick" I was. I never paid him any attention but now I'm thinking that I should have...I still can't believe that it was him! To the Howard-Dunbar family, I am sorry! However, I will let you know that crying will not help to bring him back. So, I won't say stop wasting tears because he IS a special soul but, save the tears for another occassion. You don't want to be all cried out! Let his good days out weigh the bad ones and live off of those memories instead of saying "Oh, he was so young" or "He didn't even get a chance to live" because in the beginning GOD promised life but never longevity. Try saying "some people didn't get to see 16" or "Remember the time when...". I hope something was read to enlighten your most downest time. I can't express enough how sorry I am and how this came to me as a great shock!
I WILL pray for this family!*

God Bless...and then bless again!

“ To Yolanda and Family,

I'm so sorry for the loss of your baby boy. But God has a better plan for him in his army in heaven. You all will be in my prayers and always in my heart. Yolanda, trust in the lord and he will bring you through. And always know that whatever or whenever, we will always find each other. Nothing will ever change that.

Lovingly submitted,

“ To the most sweetest, caring people I will ever know in life. I grew up around the corner from Ms. Bonnie and J. D. laughing in the summer with Lent, Tish, James, Gloria and little Valerie. Those memories will stay with me forever!! You are my people and when you hurt, I hurt.
Time will heel most of the hurt but not all, God will comfort you in your darkest hour and will heel all hurt. I love you all!!

“ To hear that your gone is so unbelievable the pain that we all feel. To have you not around hurts me deeply. I was never around you much but when I was you were always the character in the room. Oh how we can't blame you for that what Dunbar isn't the center of attention. To my uncle Leonard I love you so much! To get through this trying time alway remember this man's beautiful smile and loving heart. I love you much cousin. Until we meet again! Jenn

“ I know what you guys are going through. My mother has lost a son and I lost a brother. It's going to be a long road and you are going to feel the pain on the way. I can't say it is going to be okay because it's not. There are going to be days when you are going to wake up and wait for him. You are going to think about him everyday. We wish the best for you and God bless you.

“ JASON I CANT BELIEVE U GON BUT HERE IS A LITTLE PEOM THAT I THINK IT JUST RITE FOR ME BUT IM GON MISS U TRUELY

We all know you're gone and gone is forever.

*I sometimes think I hear and see you,
then I think its not true*

and it breaks my heart in two - two pieces that slowly mend together, month after month.

Memories are painful and also wonderful.

*Why God wanted you now is something no one knows,

“ To Leonard, Yolonda, Lando, Donovan & Jleesa. There is nothing I can say or do that will ease the pain that you are going through right now. Jason was a angel and we all have lost a very vital part of our family. My prayers are with you all , I would always call Jason my "baby" because he kind of took to me and I will miss him so much he was the nephew that won my heart and it hurts me so much to see him go like this. Now is the time when we have to put together as a family to help each other through this time and just lean on the Lord and trust in him to comfort and keep us in our time of sorrow. JASON D'NARD HOWARD DUNBAR "MY BABY" GOD BLESS YOU. LOVE YOUR AUNTIE PAM
