“ A real father is always concerned about his children and never fails to give them the love and kindness they so deserve. You did it in such a wonderful way. It was great seeing you a few days before you went home to be with the Lord whom you have always served. All I can do now is say, "see you on the other side". Always your daughter,
Jeri

“ I was introduced by my Grandmother, the late Gussie Lewis, to a complete gentleman. A confident man, who spoke of life lessons, places he traveled and people he met. I would enjoy listening to the quiet conversatios. After listening for not to long, you could tell this gentleman had much wisdom offer. I am proud to have met Mr. Jessie L. Lewis

“ To Papa J,

It all happened so quickly and I still can't believe you are gone. I keep hearing you say that you wanted to hear that "good ole" preaching one more time from your own Pastor Saunders. Rest in peace Papa J, our loving and merciful Father has called you unto Himself!

To the family-I will truly miss Papa J with his love for people and talking. The history of Saginaw in this man was incredible, and he loved to share it with anyone who would listen. He gave me a Rhema word from the Lord that changed my life. It was blunt but needed. I will never forget what that has meant to me. I know that he is not lonely or in pain anymore. That gives me solace now.

I Love You

Lynn
