“ I met Latosha a few years ago. We instantly connected. You would have thought that we had known each other for years. Ms. Latosha would always say, "let me know when you are coming over so I can cook you something". That was her way of thanking me for being such a true person and a person whom she could trust. She loves her grandchildren. We were just in conversation about the children a week before she passed. Her grandchildren are her pride and joy! I'm gonna miss our laughter.
