“ My condolences to Rob and Chanel. I'm praying for you and the family.

To Leea:

You and Tea were thick as thieves. Hardly ever more than 2 ft apart. She loves and misses you so much! You were BFF/cousins and because of that I am TT Florida. Although your not here physically, I know you are still here with her. You're her guardian angel. Your the only person she listens to, so stay in her ear. Keep her on the straight and narrow and continue to hold her hand during her rough patches. Know that the 2 of you are not saying goodbye but see ya later. The 2 of you will be together again someday! Love you neicey poo!

Love you always,

TT Flo

The next week her track fell out and she wanted to know if I had any hair glue, because of course I'm black and I should have hair glue. Leea spirit was kind and loving and she knew how to make others laugh. I pray for strength for her loved ones. Leea will be missed. Ms. Coates*

“ Since birth we been taught to prepare to one day bury our parents, therefore it was something that we all have mentally prepared our self for. But no one has ever told us nor taught us how to prepare mentally or physically to Bury one of our kids. Therefore how ever you Disco and Chenell choose to grieve, I fill no one can judge you for it, because there is no BLUEPRINT for how to Bury your child. I love you Disco AKA Rob J. my brother. “ It is truly heartbreaking to be writing my condolences for Leea Jamerson. They say that the children are supposed to be the one burying their parents, not the other way around. However, I know that death is inevitable, so are the circumstances behind it. With an open mind, I believe that God has the best reasons and most surprising ways of taking back an angel He so miss in heaven. Leea, I will walk down memory lane because I know I'll find you there. I love you baby, rest peacefully in the arms of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

Rob with all compassion and comfort, I stand by you my dear friend while suffering at the eternal loss of your baby girl. I am deeply pained and words are of no help in expressing the sorrow I feel at this moment. But what I will say is this, if in the darkness you see stars above, the one that shines the brightest is your baby girl shining. Please allow the love of others to lift you in this time of grief.

My heartfelt condolences to both parents and Leea- baby girl you may be gone from our sight, but NEVER from our hearts.
