“ A mother is someone who is always there, she is your roots that help to grow you into a strong tree with many branches that reach out in many directions to help you handle many situations. My mother was the best she was my confidant, she was my shoulder to lean on when I needed to cry and she was my bestfriend. Noone will ever take her place for me or in my heart. All of my family is gone now but my Aunt Faye so I will cherish her and take care of her as my mother would want me to do. I dedicate the rest of my life to taking care of my aunt and loving what I have left of my family. I love you Linda and this pain will someday ease but for now I will continue as I promised you I would when this day came and I will be all that you wanted me to be at this time. God be with us because I know in my heart that you and momma and the rest of the family are watching out for us.

I love you my bestfriend and mother.
