“ Marion was the nanny for my twins from the time they were 10 weeks old (2009) until they were about 7 months old. But Marion also came with us on a family cruise when the kids were 2.5, she stayed with them every January for two weeks when my husband and I would travel, and numerous other times as well. I trusted her implicitly with my kids. She got to know and like Memphis so well that she even moved here for a year. We bought a little house for her to rent while she pursued her full time job at Walmart. She would tell us stories of some of the interesting encounters she'd have with the customers. Everyone called her Miss Marion! When my son was about 4, he mispronounced her name as Miss Marinade. We still called her that when joking around with her.

She was adventurous and would take off for a new job or opportunity when one presented itself. She loved her family and she loved God, she loved going to church and the fellowship which followed. She loved music (especially 70s-90s music) and pop culture. I always had my People magazines ready for her when she came. She also loved to go shopping. I remember her showing me some dress choices she had for her nieces' weddings. Everything in different shade of purple ( both of our favorite colors!). She loved food, and really loved my husband Joe's cooking.

I know she loved my babies (who are now almost 13) and was looking forward to their joint bar mitzvah in the Fall. I spoke to her on the Sunday before she passed. I think she wanted to go be with her parents, her siblings, and with the Lord. She had the biggest heart and it was broken. I will miss her laugh and her stories and her friendship. But I know they are all celebrating together in Heaven. Rest in eternal peace, sweet Marion. May your memory be a blessing. 💜

“ Marion was Nanny to our three kids in the late '80's and early '90's in the Chicago area. She was wonderful! She helped organize the schedules and made sure everyone was where he / she needed to be at the right time. We never had to worry about the kids when she was in charge. When she moved downtown to broaden her social life, we kept in touch with cards and phone calls...particularly our mid-November marathon calls when we caught up with how life was treating all of us.

During all of those years, I can't think of an angry word or any unpleasantness. Marion was a genuinely loving person who I very much miss.

I hope she rests in peace.

“ Marion raised me and my siblings, caring for us for many years. She was a wonderful, loving, caring person, and she meant so much to me, my family, and I know she meant a lot to many, many others. I'll always remember her laugh!

“ Ok. Hoping this one takes! Marion and I were nanny "sisters". I know you are thinking of the sweet "every day" Marion. But the one I knew was a brave adventurous nanny! She not only had some of the craziest jobs, ones you and I might have walked away from, but she ALWAYS saw the job to the end! She was fearless when it came to her job! Her nanny kids of long term jobs kept in touch and I know miss her. In our profession, we can change children lives and Marion's love had a huge impact on their lives. She made a "difference" in her lifetime. I miss you my friend..
