Marvin is resting now without any worry, so to the children and his family stay strong, keep your head up. “ My heart goes out to you Freddie and your sister and other family members. I found out about bubba death Friday, February 22. I was shock and sad to hear about the lost of a friend that I had every since we were little. I will miss his smile and his own unqiue way of flirting with his eyes. No matter where he stayed, he made sure I can come where ever he lived. If I was at home, the class of 79 know I would had spoke about him from elementary to now. Plus I would had sang a song. I hope my cousin Eddie or Brenda sang a song. Even thought I am not there visually, mentally and in spirit I am there. LOL
