“ It has taken me 12yrs to write something and yet I am still at a loss for words. My grandmother was such a special lady that meant everything to me. She was such a gentle soul with a beautiful smile. I wish I had more time with you than I did no all I have left to cherish is memories of you and the time we use to spend together. I will forever miss having Sunday dinner after church with you and going to McDonald's on the weekend when I stayed a night. It seemed as though your favorite space in the house was your kitchen. You were always busy in there doing something now your at rest and at times it's hard to function without thinking about you. Meadea you are greatly missed and love by everyone. But I guess your spirit was just to big to keep it contained here on earth. Til we meet again another realm love ❤️ (Wanda)

“ I am missing you so much today. I see the house that I loved to be at so much is up for sale again. I have so many wonderful, and loving memories there. I was actually searching something else on the internet and your obituary popped up. I can still hear your voice. I just wish I could have one more phone call, one more hug, one more kiss but I no I can't now....but I know I will again. I will always, always, always love you.

“ My Grandmother, so near and dear to me. A woman of such class, style, and grace. The world truly has lost an angel that the Lord allowed to be here on earth. I can not remember a time without her presence. I was blessed to enjoy her love all my life and her advice while an adult. Ma'Dear is/was the epitomy and my example of what a woman and mother ought to be.

Grand Daddy Houston & Diane my heart truly goes out to you and I pray that God keeps us safely ensconed in his arms at our hour of this most greatest of grief.

With all my heart,

“ TO MaDear,
I will always miss and love you.
You never made a difference in the fact that I was not a granddaughter of your blood. But you made me feel special every time you gave me a piece of gum, and a hug and a smile. Rest in peace knowing that you will never ever be forgotten. love always

“ Its been some time since I've layed eyes on her.In fact the last time was back in the last part of yr85'going back overseas in the U.S.Army.Even though some time had passed she was still interested in what I was doing and becoming,there was no issues in between.She understood.
I will miss her greatly but with great joy knowing that give of herself finding time to make us all who knew her feel welcome and at home.Now she's a better place still will be there waiting for us to feel welcome and at home.

“ I wish I could have been there to see her for the last time and to talk to her. And also to tell her how much I missed and loved being around her. Even though we hardly talked much, I just wanted her to know that she had alittle one that always wanted to know who she was and where she came from. I tell my boyfriend (gabriel) so much about my family to let him know where I came from. As much as she was to me she was my rock and my soul who taught me how life is before I even stepped out the door. And for that I learned from her aswell as my mom how love and be loved by all but not by one. Great grandma I know u looking down at me proud of me now. I miss you and love you ur always in my heart forever. Big daddy I love you and miss you tooo
Peace and love will be with you forever.
