“ To the family of Tre, my name is Cy' Reshia and I am the aunt of Quintae Cooper & also a former neighbor. I remember so clearly how close those two were and the bond they had. It saddens me to write this memory when 12 years ago you all were supporting my family when we lost Quintae to gun violence. The prayers and love of the McKether family are with you. Tre was an awesome young man. He will be missed.

“ You brought joy, happiness and laughter to all who met you. Even though you are gone away, your love will always be here to stay. I find myself wishing that it wasn't real but every time I think about it, pain is all I can feel. You touched our hearts with so many things. Last night I was in bed just thinking about you laughing while watching Sistas. All I could hear was you saying Cuz it's time for a new night gown lol. I remember just about a month ago I was getting ready to take a trip and you asked me what I packed and said don't take that gown now you going on vacation 😊. Man you stay on me about that gown not thinking how I was thinking lol I had that gown since 1998 and it still has color mannn Lane Bryant makes good quality clothing 😂. From watching each other's dance to becoming dance partners they couldn't mess with us Lil Cuz. We are going to truly miss you Lil Cuz. You may be gone from my sight but you are never gone from my heart. Love you Lil Cuz.

“ I remember when try was a young man and my dad bought him cow boy boots. Trey would where those boots everyday. When they were to small his mom had to get rid of them. Trey asked about those boots for a long time.

Trey loved his grandma Katie Lee they watch all her favorite t.v. Shows together. Trey was a sweet young man who loved his family.

“ My son Mr. Maurice Tre’Vion Williams was a loving and caring person. Maurice loved the Lord, everyone he came in contact with, never holding a grudge, not a jealous bone in his body, very forgiving, a great son, brother, grandson, nephew, cousin, and friend!! His loyalty ran deep, some will never know what that type of loyalty feels like! He was always smiling like his dad, loved having fun and family time!! He loved shoes like his me his mom, his choice was casual and gym shoes, I love my heels!!! He loved to bowl and was really good at it! He loved his unborn son and was so excited when he learned he was having a son!! This was very unexpected for him to pass this way because he had battled Sickle Cell Disease all his life and he was fighting through it!! We truly miss you son, you touched so many people hearts and you will never be forgotten!!! Williams, Carter, Johnson, & Liggins family!! Love you our first born, and our angel!! ~your mom Mrs. Audra (Romar) Johnson & dad Mr. Maurice Williams Sr.
