“ It really hurts my heart to hear that another young life has been shortend. I pray that her family can stay strong and her daughter will know that she lives forever in her heart. It may seem as thought your heart will never heal but trusting in GOD will get you through this home going for "Nakki". I can say this from recent personal expierence not hear say. I love you Monee be at peace!! GOD bless her family.

“ I was shocked and deeply saddened to hear of Monee's passing. I had the privilege of taking care of her and I considered her a friend. To her daughter and mother I pray for strength to endure during this very difficult time. Please know how very much she will be missed. She taught me how to smile through the pain. Rest in peace Monee.

“ Deepest sympathies to the family and prayers for strength are extended. Monee was the first "artist" to cut my hair and make sure I was "right" for my prom back in 1995! I would travel back home from school just so Monee could "tighten me up." She wouldn't and I wouldn't either...let anyone else near my hair with scissors! Even taught me how to dye my eyebrows! Which I still do to this day! What a wonderful person! What a gain for Christ to have here there with HIM.

“ To the family of Monee Jones, my heart felt like it was stabbed once again to hear the news that we lost another classmate, friend, and angel of the Lord. My prayer is that you as individuals and as a family stay strong, encouraged and know that God is still in control. We may not understand the particulars of why we are called home at a young age, but one thing for sure, we all must go that way. I declare to you today that NO WEAPON FORMED AGAINST YOU SHALL PROSPER!!! God has called another "ANGEL" home and her suffering is all over. We should rejoice in her homegoing because when its our time to arrive home, Monee will be able to show us around! Monee', you will be surely missed, but not forgotten! Weeping may endure for a night, but JOY cometh in the morning, and this morning we cry tears of joy. May God bless and keep you all!

“ To the Jones family I am truly sorry for your lost. Monee was and still is an Angel from Heaven and yes she will be sadly missed. My heart and prayers are with you dearly, and I have no doubt that she is in fact walking around in heaven and let us not allow this to be the last time seeing her, as long as we have a beautiful spirit, caring and forgiving heart as Monee we will dwell in the house of THE LORD as she. My God bless your family greatly , and let Jesus be your light and God be your strength in time of storm.
