“ *There's this chain tied to me
A chain of broken memories memories of love and hate, memories I can't replace, memories I would love to change, so I would no longer feel the pain of these memories, broken memories that linger, linger in my dreams
And they come back right in front of me, broken memories that I hate, I just want them out of my face, broken memories, please get out of my mind your killing me, bringing back broken memories, I want to destroy,
repeating, repeating,
always repeating,
these painful broken memories,
will forever be tied to me.*
