“ *To the entire family of Teressa Sims. You have our prayers and condolences. Teressa was a joy to be around. We always had laughter and love the many times we got together. She attended special events in our families lives. Of course her sister May was always with her. I admired the sister bond they have with each other. As I sat here and watched her homegoing services I thought of how much she loves her children, mother, siblings grandchildren and all her family. I know you all will miss her dearly and your hearts are hurting. Pray and lift each other up in spirit. You know that's what she would be doing and did in times like these. She is one of Gods angels now looking down on her family saying "all is well, family and friends". God makes no mistakes. With my deepest sympathy. Until we me again my friend.
