“ Our family would like to send our condolences to your family for your loss. We too have lost a loved one and found great comfort in a Bible promise and we want to share it with you. It is found at Revelation 21:3-5. It is with sincere hope that we leave this scripture in hopes that you too will find comfort.

“ It took us 30 years before we talked to one another again and six months ago, it was the same as the first time we met; with a mutual song in our hearts. We felt genuinely that GOD had placed us together with the instruments that HE gave to us for the time we shared them with others to help with kingdom building. We didn't know that it would be our last time talking to one another; but I am glad that HE gave to us one last chance to recall precious memories we shared between us. When at first we both heard the notes coming out of our vocals, we knew that it was GOD's gift to both of us because it was a balance that only HE could do since we had never been acquainted. After a while, we went our separate ways, but we did meet again; if only for a short while. Now, go and take your place in that heavenly home where we came from and rest from your labor! You may be absent from us who are still laboring, but you are present with the LORD. So, in an old familiar tune of ours via the Williams Brothers; We'll Meet Again Over On The Other Shore! R.I.P.
