“ Thank you for teaching me how to tie my shoes. I remember you babysitting me and my right shoe kept becoming untied. I kept asking you to tie it for me. Finally (after a little frustration) you asked "Boy, don't you know how to tie your shoes?". Then you stopped what you were doing in the kitchen and with great patience you taught me how. I put on shoes everyday and I tie them just the way you taught me. I've tied a lot of shoes since then all because you showed me how. Rest well, Aunt Sine. You've earned your reward. Rest well with Our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ.

Love, your nephew.
