“Ginger, my most memorable moment of you will always be the day that my oldest son Marcus was born and you taking me and my Momma to the hospital on a first snow morning. We were going slow but when those contractions were coming more closer the faster you drove and we got to the hospital just in time. You trusted me to watch your children who became like mine. I will miss our going on the UAW Solidarity March trips on Labor Day. Rest on my friend, please tell my Momma and Eric, I miss them as well.
