As an only child, she grew up in Saginaw, MI among a generation of sanctified praying women. After a short courtship she married Willie McClenon of Clayson, Georgia. Wanda found time to organize a group of "city street teens" and named them the "Williams Echoes", which sang under the anointing of God. She played the piano and organ for a group of women called "The Williamettes", her children's group called "The James Hazelettes" and coached a number of soloists. She began sewing as a young woman and grew to making all manner of clothing, which branched into the world of upholstery. As a part-time cosmetologist, she did hair for 28 years. She went successfully and completed the art of Catering School. To her credit are a number of weddings and events with specialized cakes. She found time to be a 6:00 a.m. prayer warrior for many, many years. She loved the Lord and to Pray! She leaves to mourn, her husband of 56 years, Willie McClenon, Saginaw, MI, children, Deborah J. Williams-Gaines, (David), Willette Hill, Seattle, WA, Pamela Kelly, Columbus, OH, Wm. Arnold B. McClenon, Columbus, OH, Eunice McClenon,

Detroit, MI and Kevin McClenon, Saginaw, MI; nine grandchildren, three great-grandchildren and a host of cousins and friends. She was preceded in death by her mother, Gladys Hill; father, Roy N. Hall; son, Ronald Smith, and one granddaughter. Servant of God well done. Thy glorious warfare's past. The battle's fought, the race is won, and thou art crowned at last.

“ Arnold, so sorry to hear about the loss of your wonderful mother. I know how close you and she was. She will be sadly missed. Even though we "lost touch" for a while, always know that you are a GREAT friend. Take care of each other cause that's what mother would have wanted. God Bless you and your family.

“ I love your mother very much for raising you two wonderful faithful children, and then personally giving you to me me for safe-keeping. I weep with you, and I rejoice with you. We do know the end of the story...the story never ends, the siniging never ends, the worship never ends...we will see her again and live with our God in Eternity. My prayers are with you and your dad and family, I will see you soon.

“ To one of my other Mother's and family. I am so sorry about the loss. Mom was the type of person who would help and give advice to anyone, especially young women. She loved singing, sewing, most of all the Lord. In addition, she was a very blunt person. She had no in between punches. She also had a passion for the piano when she did play. She will be missed by many, many people. She was from the old school. Mom thanks for everything that you have instilled in me.
