“ You will be missed uncle. You uplifted so many people, we always had the best conversations and you knew how to make everyone laugh. I always admired your strength. From fighting in the war and always trying to keep the family uplifted. You were always a fighter who never quit. I will miss your happy birthday singing and many more laughs we shared together. I appreciate you for all you've done not only for me but for our entire family. You have touched so many lives and will never be forgotten. Rest in heavenly peace Uncle Raheem ❤️ until we meet again.

“ Willie, (Aka Uncle Raheem)

When I was a little girl, I always thought of you as a hero. Going to war, Vietnam War, was something not too many men would've been courageous enough to go through. I will always remember your stories about going to war & all you experienced during that time. All praises to God Almighty that HE kept you safe & blessed you to return home to your family. I will cherish all the memories that I have of you. I will never forget your voice, sounding like Berry White, singing Happy Birthday to your mother every year in restaurants no matter how loud you were, who was watching or listening, your love for vehicles, soul artist/music & dogs. I will definitely miss our conversations about them. Also your love for your children. You were very proud of them. I want to thank you for being so cool, soulful, always keeping it real, & blessing us with your voice.

I would like to apologize for all the evil & selfish things that some of your family members have done, or the ones that claim that they are family while preparing for your homegoing. It really broke my hurt to hear that this was going on. This goes to show you that the ones that says that they knew you, really didn't know you at all. You didn't like drama. You were too cool & laid back for that. You always tried to see the good in people even if they always did evil things. So for those that "really" love you & "really" love your wife (my Aunt Carol) I forgave them for their wrongdoings. May God forgive, guide, strengthen & teach us all to do the right thing & love one another while we still have a chance to.

I know that you're in heaven now with your parents & all of your loved ones that have passed away before you. I know you are in heaven serenading them all with your voice. Until we reunite again, keep singing uncle. You will truly be missed.

*Love you always, your niece

“ In Loving Memory of Raheem

Raheem,

I will forever cherish the countless phone calls where you asked about my kids—always checking in, always caring. Your voice was calm, your questions sincere, and your love so steady. You made me feel like family from the very beginning, even though we didn't look the same or come from the same background. That acceptance meant more than words can say.

I'll never forget the quiet moments—riding to the store together, picking up food, sharing space and conversation. Those simple things became memories I now hold close. You never judged, you just showed love. You respected me, and I deeply respected you right back.

In a time when others are creating noise, stirring division, and trying to control what should be sacred, I choose to remember what was real: the bond we shared, the peace in our talks, and the way you treated me like your own.

Thank you for letting me in, for seeing my heart, and for being a steady presence in our lives. You were more than my brother-in-law—you were my family. God Bless You always

*With love and respect always,
Judy Taylor (KT)*
